No end to publisher corruption?

In checking the pub date of Frame-Up for a Who's Who entry, which gives it as 1974, I checked one of the remainders I got under the contract and am selling. I noticed that on the copyright page is says Second Printing, 1971. That did surprise me because the accounting I got is that the first printing was not sold out and that it was those remainders I was getting. So, I looked at my desk copy, my working copy. It does not say Second Printing, 1971. No second printing was in the accounting.
